Why did BW ESS merge with BW Group?

BW ESS is part of BW Group, a global maritime company founded in 1955 that cites shipping, floating infrastructure, deepwater oil and gas production and new sustainable technologies among its operations. The merger seeks to enhance the company's energy storage capabilities and solidify its presence within the renewable energy market.

How many GW does BW ESS have?

The combined entity now holds a pipeline of approximately 5GW across a range of territories. Erik Ström, CEO of BW ESS, said: "We have worked closely with Penso Power since 2021 and already view them as trusted colleagues. Our teams have together entered new markets and pioneered innovative energy storage solutions."

Does BW ESS have a pipeline?

Already holding operational assets in Sweden and over 1GWh of projects under construction in the UK, Sweden, and Australia, the transaction grows BW ESS' portfolio with the addition of Penso Power's UK and Australian pipeline of more than 2GW. The combined entity now holds a pipeline of approximately 5GW across a range of territories.

Did res build the largest battery storage project in Sweden?

But neither were built and energized by the time RES switched on the Elektra Energy Storage Project, a 20 MW / 20 MWh project, called Sweden's largest battery storage project at the time, in late April. And the claim by Ingrid Capacity depends on how you see things.

Is battery storage a cost-effective and scalable solution?

Axel Holmberg, CEO at Ingrid Capacity, said, "Flexibility solutions, such as large-scale battery storage, have proven to be both a cost-effective and scalable solution."
