Can a lithium battery be shipped overseas?

Unlike when shipping smaller lithium-ion batteries, new electric vehicles are moved overseas in huge Ro-Ro vessels, with their batteries secured and not live during the shipping process. Best Practices: Shipping Lithium Batteries in Container Ship If a lithium battery has been used or damaged, then it should not be shipped.

How do you ship lithium ion batteries?

Goods must be labelled as "Lithium Ion Battery" or "Lithium Metal Battery" and include appropriate shipping marks and hazard labels. Lithium batteries must have the correct documentation - including a Dangerous goods declaration, air waybill, and packing list. Can you Ship Lithium-ion Batteries Internationally?

How many lithium batteries can be shipped?

Only a maximum of four can be sent, with two per container, and each battery must have a rating of below 100 watts per hour. It is essential to note that some countries have their own regulations and restrictions for shipping lithium batteries, so it is crucial to check with the destination country's customs authorities before shipping.

Can I ship a lithium ion battery by air?

For this reason, any battery that is suspected or known to be defective (swelling, corroding or leaking, for example) is not permitted for shipping within the DHL Express network. When you're shipping lithium-ion batteries by air, it's essential to follow specific regulations regarding their state of charge (SoC).

Are lithium batteries safe to ship?

Improperly packaged lithium batteries can ignite, causing fires that are difficult to extinguish and pose a significant risk to the safety of transportation workers and the general public. Other battery types, such as alkaline or nickel-metal hydride (NiMH), are generally considered safer to ship.

Can I ship a faulty battery?

Shipping damaged or faulty batteries can be extremely dangerous, with the risk of fire, smoke and fumes. For this reason, any battery that is suspected or known to be defective (swelling, corroding or leaking, for example) is not permitted for shipping within the DHL Express network.
