Vanuatu's geography makes it difficult to create centralized energy systems, which leaves many communities and islands needing electricity, hindering development and forcing the use of fossil fuels for lighting.

This was addressed at the Nigeria Energy Exhibition when StarTimes unveiled its solar device. StarTimes' National Sales Director, Ameh Dele Samuel, clarified that the company began creating solar energy solutions in 2013 in order to supply rural villages without power with electricity so they could receive digital television services.

"Complementing the solar panels, StarTimes" hybrid inverters are available in capacities ranging from 1 KVA to 10 KVA, boasting a high efficiency rate of up to 97.5%. The dual-channel Maximum Power Point Tracking (MPPT) technology allows for the connection of multiple solar panels, enhancing energy generation capabilities.

Throughout the first year of operation, the local energy service company will provide free maintenance and train members of the local communities to operate and maintain the power ...
